AutoVase(R) Adds a Dash of Decor to Any Vehicle's Dashboard

share
share
Like

SIMI VALLEY, Calif., Nov. 8, 2007 — Even with rising gasoline prices, Americans spend more than 200 hours a year driving to and from work. Entrepreneur Greg Smith of HotSmith Products may not have the answer to traffic congestion and road rage, but his product is designed to make the daily commute a more pleasant one.

The patent-pending AutoVase(R) is a vase that easily clips to any vehicle's air vent. The vase is sized to hold a few fresh or artificial flowers. Smith notes that because plastic tends to fade, scratch or discolor over time, AutoVase is made of clear glass.

"With AutoVase," says Smith, "while commuters are busy working their gas and brake pedals, our petals can give them a much-needed break. Of course, you don't have to be a business commuter to enjoy AutoVase. Anyone who drives a car can appreciate the ambience AutoVase brings to the daily routine. At this time of year, it makes a great stocking-stuffer."

Smith, whose company HotSmith Products specializes in bringing novel concepts to market, points out that the AutoVase makes a great gift for anyone, since it can hold more than just flowers. Here are a few of his ideas:

- Use the AutoVase as a pen or pencil holder.
- Put an "in case of emergency" cigarette or cigar in the AutoVase.
- Keep your tire gauge in the AutoVase right at your fingertips.
- Hang an extra pair of glasses or sunglasses over the rim of the AutoVase.
- Print pertinent contact and medical information on a small piece of paper - to be used in the event of an accident - roll it up, and stash it in the AutoVase.

AutoVase is designed to clip onto any type of air vent. The clip rotates 360 degrees and slides up and down on the vase, allowing the vase to adjust to an upright position. In fact, AutoVase offers a money-back guarantee if the vase does not fit a vehicle's vent.

For customers planning to use the AutoVase to enjoy a bit of nature inside their cars, Smith adds that fresh flowers fare best in cooler months and only need a half-filled vase, so the water won't spill under normal driving conditions. For those who prefer silk flowers, <http://www.autovase.com> offers more than a dozen varieties of lifelike rosebuds and daisies.

Available with either a black, silver or gold clip, AutoVase sells for $7.99 online and is also available at select car washes and convenience stores. The colorful silk flowers – made with the highest-quality materials to resist fading and fraying – sell for $2.99 each.

And soon, drivers will be able to stop (at a red light) and smell the roses, so to speak. That's because AutoVase is developing a line of fragrances to enhance the artificial flowers for a unique and elegant car air freshener.

Our Clients Say It Best

"On our first eReleases distribution, we were promptly contacted by Fast Company who then wrote a great article about our company.

That was a few years ago. The phone still rings from that article to this day, and we have since continued to use eReleases for all of our press release distribution needs."

Fresh Flowers in All the Traditional Places. When you think of a beautiful floral arrangement, you often think of the dining room table, especially if it is holiday time. And why not? Beautiful dining centerpieces have graced our tables for centuries. Whether you are having a party, decorating for a holiday, or simply adding a beautiful touch, keep in mind that floral arrangements should complement the decor and mood of the room. Remember, too, you don't have to have a traditional arrangement just because you find it in a traditional location. Instead of one big center arrangement, you may want to try a series of vases and candles on a fabric runner for a stunning effect.

Another traditional location for fresh flowers is in the foyer or entranceway. What a great way to make a terrific first impression. Regardless of your style, flowers in the entryway can create the mood from the moment someone walks through your door. Is your home formal? Try an elegant centerpiece or a piece of artwork on a pedestal draped with a garland and flowers. For a homier, friendlier look, place a basket with a garden bouquet on the entry table. No matter what your style, flowers can enhance your home.

Beyond Tradition

Let's not stop with tradition! Fresh flowers are so beautiful that they should not be relegated to the dining room and entryway alone. Why not brighten every room in your house? Let's look at a few ideas to help you think outside the box.

- Kitchen: Think beyond basil and oregano! Fill your kitchen window ledge with pots of herbs and sun-loving plants like kalanchoe, African violets, or primroses. A few well-placed gerbera daisies can help spice up your kitchen, too. The best part is that you can enjoy your mini-harvest every day.
- Bedroom: Add a touch of romance in your bedroom with a few beautiful stems that complement or accent the color of your linens or wallpaper. There is simply nothing like waking up to a delicate scent drifting from your nightstand. Tea roses, freesias, peonies, lilac and lilies, all have delicious fragrances.
- Guest Bedroom: Welcome your guest with a bright floral addition. Visitors feel extra special with a bright bunch of cut flowers sitting pretty on the guest room nightstand.
- Bathroom: Flowers in the bathroom? Why not! A simple plastic tumbler filled with fragrant blossoms makes an attractive air freshener. You can even add floating rose-petals in a bath to spoil a friend!
- Office: Any job is more enjoyable when the surroundings are cheerful and attractive, and what is more cheerful than cut flowers? Bring nature indoors and make yourself happier and healthier!
- Laundry Room: I can hear you now "NOT the laundry room, too! Yes, even the laundry room can use a bit of sunshine. Rinse out an old bleach or detergent bottle, fill it with cut flowers and place it on your washing machine or shelf. It'll help lighten the load on washday!
- Staircase: Create a "stepped" effect with a series of flowers in interesting containers.

There is nothing wrong with tradition a big floral arrangement on the dining room table is always a welcomed addition to the decor of the room. Fresh flowers, however, don't have to stay in the dining room. Be creative! Think unique! Put them in all your nooks and crannies! And yes, even put them in your bathroom!

You Don't Have to be a Floral Designer

You've been to the florist before and know that you can't create the gorgeous centerpieces you find there, nor can you afford to buy them already made. Don't worry! Simply buy some fresh flowers, take them home, and experiment. Anything that can hold water is a possibility for a flower arrangement.

- Water Pitchers
- Urns

- Pots
- Vases
- Bowls
- Watering Cans
- Soda Bottles
- Mason Jars
- Champagne Bottles
- Mugs
- Even a Child's™ Plastic Cup

Once you have a few containers, the fun begins. Try filling a clear glass with flowers and fill with colored marbles. Create a cluster of different sized flower-filled bottles on a coffee table. Use bowls and shallow dishes for floating flower heads or petals and add floating candles for a bright and shining effect.

Mother Nature has created great beauty in flowers and you simply can't™ go wrong. Develop your own personal style and taste by experimenting with different colors and types of flowers. Each week try a different look, color, or kind of flower.

The complementary colors of flowers can brighten any part of the house, from the kitchen to the family room to the bedroom. Expand your ideas to different areas throughout your home. The important thing is to have fun and enjoy.
